

OASIS

WATER PARKS AND PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT

Founded in 1987 in a region with a high concentration of composite products manufacturers and distributors, Erick Lynch Design is proud to present its OASIS division specializing in the design, manufacturing and installation of water games for over 10 years.

OASIS mission is to supply its customers with high quality parts and systems in a timely and cost competitive way. In this context, the division works closely with clients to guide them to the most appropriate choices according to their needs and their environment.

With nearly 30 years experience in the manufacturing of recreational products and industrial composites, the OASIS division of Erick Lynch Design benefits from an outstanding expertise in this field from design to on site installation. OASIS integrates a steel and welding shop as well as transforming any other materials used in the assemblies of the water parks.

Our slides meet the EN-1069-1 standards: 2010 and ASTM F2376 and user safety is always at the forefront of the design, manufacturing and installation of our products.

OASIS benefits from the input of designers, engineers and skilled technicians to ensure the functionality and integrity of each individual parts down to the finished installations.

We are there to support you in your projects of water parks, water games and playgrounds. Whether you choose from our stock games inventory or choose custom manufacturing, from design to turnkey installation, the OASIS team is there to guide you in your projects, large or small.

Hope to hear from you soon
